SUMMARY

Senior financial analyst with 6 years of experience in FP&A, forecasting, and variance analysis for mid-size manufacturing and logistics firms. Skilled in building forecast models and partnering directly with operations leadership on budget decisions.

SKILLS

Financial Modeling • Forecasting • Variance Analysis • Excel/VBA • SQL • Budget Planning • Power BI

F.A.S. AUDIT NOTE — Keyword Mismatch — see key above (UGESP)

Financial Modeling, Forecasting, and SQL are explicitly listed and demonstrated throughout this resume, directly matching the posted role's requirements. The ATS rejection reason does not reference a specific skill or qualification gap.

EXPERIENCE

Senior Financial Analyst — Cascade Manufacturing Group

Sep 2023 – Present

- Returned from an approved medical leave in Sep 2023 and rebuilt the quarterly forecasting model within the first month back.
- Own the annual operating budget process for a $40M manufacturing division.
- Reduced forecast variance from 9% to 4% over two quarters.

F.A.S. AUDIT NOTE — Legal Trigger Language / Disparate Impact Pattern — see key above (ADA / FMLA)

The role entry explicitly references an "approved medical leave." ATS rejection reason on file: "Extended medical leave raised concerns about ability to meet continuous senior-level demands." Medical-leave gaps are a protected proxy for disability status under the ADA. No record exists of an interactive process or accommodation-context inquiry before this rejection was issued, which ADA guidance requires once a leave-related signal is present.

Financial Analyst II — Bridgepoint LogisticsJul 2020 – Feb 2023

- Built the company's first rolling 13-week cash forecast model, adopted company-wide.
- Partnered with operations leadership on route-level cost analysis informing a 5% margin improvement.
- Promoted from Financial Analyst I to Financial Analyst II within 18 months.
